PR3 Systems is a specialized provider of training and consulting services for IBM Business Intelligence solutions. Our solutions are based upon our unique framework (BIKES) focused on identification of the ideal corporate vision, leveraging existing information resources and tools, and the best migration plan ensuring cost effective approaches which have been incorporated through meticulous stakeholder acceptance. BIKES leverages IBM Information Server and COGNOS on the backend. PR3 Systems' ability to put the right expertise on client projects, and its relentless effort to continually improve performance enables PR3 to obtain repeat businesses and forge long lasting relationships with customers.
